Dear Prof. Dr. Mazzreku,

13 September 2013

After the final report of the seminar is completed we would like to send it to you together with some words of gratitude. First and foremost to you due to your dedication to make the joint seminar happen and such a great success. Your engagement, financial contribution and personal connections not just led to fruitful academic lectures and discussions with members of Kosovar politics as well as civil society, but also enabled the Heidelberg students to put on “different glasses” like the Ombudsman did. We were again and again impressed and inspired by your strong conviction to make through the education of young leaders at ISPE College a contribution to develop capacities for the future of Kosovo. It has also to be mentioned that we personally, but as well our Heidelberg students learn a lot about the realities in Kosovo and the hopes and dreams of young Kosovars of changing the country. This was not at least possible due to the charming, friendly and hospitable attitude you as well as your students have welcomed us with. In this context we can conclude that not just the academic objects of the joint seminar were reached but the interpersonal and cultural expectations as well. In this context we would like to request you to transmit our gratitude also to your three assistants who were not just organizing a lot of the ‘non-academic’ activities but dealt as well with all the bigger and smaller issues required in preparing and running the seminar. Especially Blerina Bala was always a reliable, kind and competent contact person for our assistant Matthias Garbert to shape the details of the program.

Finally we hope that the joint seminar is the starting point for further cooperation between ISPE College and the Institute of Political Science of Heidelberg University. Grateful for the experiences we and our students earned in Kosovo, we wish you and ISPE College all the best for you inspiring mission and hope to see you again soon!
